DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is in response to the amendments filed on 10/28/04.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 33 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Claim 33 now requires a step of "separating said fastened together paper web train from said paper web holding devices" and a step of "moving said paper web holding devices of said paper web draw-in device out of contact with said fastened-together paper web train". Applicant argues that "the draw-in device is used only when the paper web train is being when the paper web train is being initially fed" and that "as soon as the printing press is put into a production mode of operation, the paper web train will be drawn through the folding hopper by action of further press equipment". There does not appear to be any support in the specification that that is what actually happens (that the holding devices are removed from the entire paper train once operation of the printing press commences) or that such would require two separate steps. Applicant does not point to any where in the specification for support to the amendment of the claims and in the absence of such the limitations are considered to be new matter.

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

5. Claims 33-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 33 is indefinite because it appears that the separating step and moving step are two distinct steps which accomplish the same thing and would be better claimed in a single step in order to avoid confusion. Also Applicant argues that the limitations indicate that "as soon as the printing press is put into a production mode of operation, the paper web train will be drawn through the folding hopper by action of further press equipment" and that "the paper web draw-in device is moved out of the paper web travel path". While, the current wording reads on this interpretation it also reads on the draw-in device still being in contact with the paper web train once the operation of the printing press commences even though it does not contact the part of the paper web train between the end of the folding hopper and the rotary printing press. It is suggested to more explicitly claim that the draw-in device is removed from the travel path of the paper web train, provided there is support for such in the specification.

It is also noted that the phrase "prior to operation of said rotary printing press during production of said rotary printing press" makes no sense. The claim is not directed to the production (manufacture) of a rotary printing press. It is suggested to delete "during production of said rotary printing press".

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
